

Frank-Steffen Walliser

Chairman and CEO, Bentley Motors Ltd.

Frank-Steffen Walliser was born in Stuttgart in 1969 and studied mechanical engineering at the University of Stuttgart, focusing on combustion engines and technology management.

After completing his studies, Frank-Steffen Walliser joined Porsche AG in 1995 and held various positions with the brand, including Head of Motorsport Strategy from 2003. In 2010, he became responsible for developing the pioneering 918 Spyder super sports car as overall project manager.

From 2014, the engineer was Head of Motorsport at the Stuttgart-based sports car manufacturer before taking over as Head of the 911 and 718 model series at the beginning of 2019. From 2022, he was Head of Complete Vehicle Development (vehicle architecture and characteristics) at Porsche.

Since July 1, 2024, Frank-Steffen Walliser has been Chairman and CEO of the British luxury brand Bentley Motors Ltd, succeeding Adrian Hallmark.